INSTRUCTIONS

We did this mug in dark neutral colors, but you could switch them up easily for a more bold color. Just choose a light for all over, a medium for the big part of the spot, and a dark color for the small spots.

1. Use a fan brush to apply the background. We used both Battleship and Star Dust on our brush and make swishing x shaped marks to cover the mug. We did 2 layers.
2. We are going to make the spots now in two layers. The "inside" of the spot is a lighter color than the rest of the spots. So first use your medium brush to apply spots of Star Dust all over.
3. Around each of the spots we are going to put 3 smaller dabs using a small brush and Licorice.
4. Finally we are going to paint 3 coats of Blue Green on the inside of the mug and on the handle.

TIPS

- When applying the spots, just tap the brush on making imperfect spots.
- For the background, don't rinse out the brush between colors, load them both on and let them blend together.
